SIGNS POINT TO REVOLT AGAINST ADMINISTRATION

WESTERN NEW YORK HAS STRONG FEELING OF DISCONTENT.

Harding Handling of Strike Situations Disappoints Buffalo Republicans.

Copyright, 1922, by Janesville Daily Gazette.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Western New York as a cross-section of the Empire State, reveals so many political signs and symptoms that it often enables the political voyager to get his bearings. Ordinarily republican in presidential years, strong for Harding and bitter against Wilson in 1920, one is amazed at the revulsion of feeling against the Washington administration which is encountered here.

To state briefly, there is an anti-republican drift on throughout this part of the state. It doesn't mean the people are pro-democratic. Hundreds of republicans who are dissatisfied with the president and with the republican congress will frankly say so only to reassure the inquirer in the next breath that they are not yet ready to turn to the democrats, but what will happen in 1924 depends on the results of the coming election.

The last of the special trains bringing delegations to the encampment arrived Monday night and the registers of the various units Tuesday showed an attendance of about 20,000. The Grand Army of the Republic, the largest of the units, had about 30,000 members of auxiliary organizations.

The last of the special trains bringing delegations to the encampment arrived Monday night and the registers of the various units Tuesday showed an attendance of about 20,000. The Grand Army of the Republic, the largest of the units, had about 30,000 members of auxiliary organizations.

Sen. Tom Watson, of Georgia, Dead

(By Associated Press.)

Washington.—United States Senator Thomas E. Watson of Georgia died suddenly at his home here early Tuesday.

Death was said to be due to an acute attack of asthma, from which Senator Watson had suffered recently for some years.

Though failing health had interrupted Senator Watson's attendance at senate in the last several months, he was in his seat Friday when the senate adjourned and his friends believed he was showing improvement. He was stricken suddenly after dinner Monday night and died shortly after 3 a. m. He was 66 years of age.

In his last speech in the senate, delivered a week ago last Wednesday, the senator severely criticized the administration for its course in connection with the railroads. He was a conspicuous figure in the administration, and most notably his charges of illegal holdings in the American expeditionary forces, the subject of exhaustive investigation by a senate committee, had made him a conspicuous figure in the senate body during his brief service there.

During the first year and a half of his term in the senate, to which he was elected in 1920, Senator Watson gave no indication of any impairment of the vigor and activity which had marked his long career in politics and as a publisher.

The body of the senator was taken to his home at Thomson, Ga., Tuesday.

The senator is survived by his widow and two grandchildren.

DEAF STUDENT OF DELAVAN MISSING

Youth of 19 Sought After Disappearance from State School.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Delavan.—Authorities of the state school for the deaf are redoubling their efforts to locate Clayton Keach, 19, deaf and deaf student whose disappearance Saturday has baffled them and the police.

The only theory advanced by school authorities is that at intervals the boy has suffered from nervous collapse, and that he has been unable to communicate with his family. It is believed possible this has occurred and that he is either lost in the vicinity of Delavan or has been taken away from the grounds about 3 p. m. Saturday.

The youth's parents have been notified, but they have received no word from him. He is five feet seven inches tall, with blue eyes and brown hair. When he disappeared he was wearing a dark gray suit and a gray cap.

The young man is a student in the eighth year of the training class and has been at the state school eight or ten years. He speaks the deaf and dumb language. Persons having information in regard to his disappearance are requested to communicate with Principal T. Emery Bray at the state school.

May Exhume Body of Slain Woman, Friend of Rector

New Brunswick, N. J.—The body of Mrs. James Mills, choir singer, found slain beside that of her pastor, the Rev. Edward W. Hall, 18, at a spot where they probably were slain for further examination, Prosecutor Beckman of Somerset county said Tuesday.

This would be done, he explained, to settle the apparent controversy over the number of shots which struck Mrs. Mills.

Those investigating the case are convinced now that Hall and Mrs. Mills were killed on the spot where they were found. The most important addresses was the one by State Superintendent J. L. Rogers, Oakshott, and those by Miss Mabel L. Bailey, prominent worker.

REDS SEND NOTE

Demand Part in Conference; Sultan May Resign to Pacify Kemal.

(By Associated Press.)

London.—The Turkish situation reached another critical stage Tuesday.

Kemal Pasha's reply to the allied governments has been made known at Constantinople by the presence of the Turkish military movements shall proceed and that Russia, Bulgaria and Persia shall be admitted to the proposed peace conference.

The military situation has become increasingly serious. The Turkish forces have occupied Kium Kules, at the mouth of the Dardanelles, with cavalry force. Another nationalist cavalry force, 3,000 strong, is at Eren Keul, 10 miles from the British lines at Chanak.

Russia Demands Part
Soviet Russia has sent a note to the allied powers, the Balkans and Egypt proposing an immediate peace conference.

The armistice conference has been set by the allied high commander for Oct. 2 at Mudania.

It is expected that one half to elect directors for the one and five-year terms, while two ballots were necessary on each of the other three in order to get a majority of the council.

Others nominated were P. W. K. Richardson and W. T. Scofield. The five elected must file $500 bonds before October 1.

PLEADS GUILTY TO CHARGES OF THEFT

Delavan Boy, Appears in Elkhorn Court Before Judge Agnew.

Elkhorn.—Judge David Agnew, Walworth county, heard probate court matters here Tuesday morning in the absence of Judge J. E. Lyon.

Robert W. Meeter, 15, pleaded guilty before Judge Agnew Tuesday morning to two charges of theft and one of burglary.

Easton Johnson, Whitewater, recommended that the youth be placed on probation. Delavan parties were present to testify when Judge Agnew scheduled the hearing of the testimony in all five cases for 1 p. m.

Lenency for Van Meeter was asked because he is considered the "tool" of others and has divulged information since his arrest which has led to other thefts being cleared up.

He is implicated in the theft of John Makovsky's gun at Delavan lake, the theft of his gun from the car of Arthur J. Heidus, all on Sept. 12.

The marriage of George E. Gill and Mrs. Mae Schinke, both of Elkhorn, will take place Wednesday in this city. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. P. J. Hillbourn, of the Methodist church.

Marriage license applications have been made in the Walworth county clerk of court's office by Albert Ruhl and Sophia, Amelia Pederson, Lake Geneva; David C. Wells and Harriet J. Ridout, Walworth; and Byron J. Cox, Beloit, and Lucy B. Seaver, Walworth.

Democratic candidates for Walworth county officers will be placed on the official ballot automatically under the statutes as independent candidates and will not have to file additional nomination papers, it is announced.

Earl Beutler, soloist for the Holton-Elkhorn band, whose tenor voice has been heard by more people through the use of the radio than any other singer in southern Wisconsin, has taken charge of the Congregational church choir.

Extra!!

Larry the one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Pautsch of St. Mary's avenue was burned to death this afternoon shortly after three o'clock when a fire destroyed the home.

The body was recovered when the flames had destroyed the home and firemen could search among the debris.

Mrs. Pautsch had gone to a neighbors and left the house locked with the baby inside.

A neighbor saw the fire and gave the alarm. The flames burst from all sides and there was no hope of saving the dwelling or rescuing the child.

When the department arrived the house was nearly consumed so fast had the fire burned.

The frantic mother outside waited for the moment when the fire would be out and the body of her baby rescued.

Larry is the youngest of five Pautsch children.

Pautsch is employed at the Janesville Sand and Gravel company pit.

The fire is supposed to have been started from an overheated stove in the kitchen.

WISCH TO STAND TRIAL, OCTOBER 10

23 Pct. Alcohol in Booze Found at Carver's Rock, Chemist Testifies.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington.—The cabinet, at its meeting Tuesday, declined to restrict prohibition enforcement to operations within the three mile limit at sea, except in cases where ships, being the limiters in the enforcement of the law, are found with shore through their own crew and small boats.

Prohibition enforcement officials it was said, authoritatively would be cautioned to observe this decision.

Enforcement of municipal law authorizing customs or other operations up to the 12 mile limit were found by the president's advisors to be out of harmony with international law.

It was brought out in the cabinet discussion that in the recent case of the British vessels Grace and Ruby, seized beyond the three mile limit, the court held the vessels to have been within American territory.

ALLIED STAND ON DARDANELLES GETS O.K. FROM HUGHES

FAVORS PROTECTION OF RACIAL, RELIGIOUS MINORITIES.

REPLY TO PRESS

U. S. Not Asked to Participate in Peace Conference, However, Its Assertion.

BULLETIN

Constantinople.—General Harrington, the British commander in chief here, sent a ultimatum Tuesday to Mustapha Kemal Pasha at Smyrna, by wireless, giving him 48 hours from the receipt of the telegram to withdraw his forces from Kum Kaleh, at the entrance to the Dardanelles.

Washington.—The unequivocal approval of the Washington government of allied proposals to insure the security of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus, and to protect racial and religious minorities in Turkish territories involved in the present near eastern situation was expressed by Secretary Hughes Tuesday in reply to an inquiry addressed to him by the Associated Press.

The questions submitted sought to ascertain "the attitude of the government of the United States toward the proposals made by the allies to the Turkish Nationalists." Mr. Hughes declined to comment on the territorial questions raised, but made clear the attitude of the administration on the other points involved.

Points in Accord

"The American government is gratified," said Mr. Hughes, "to observe that the proposal of the three allied governments to insure the security of the Dardanelles, the sea of Marmora, and the Bosphorus as well as protection of racial and religious minorities." These points of the proposal are clearly in accord with American sentiment.

"This government also trusts that suitable arrangements may be agreed upon in the interests of peace to preserve the freedom of the straits and the conference to conclude a final treaty of peace between Turkey, Greece and the allies."

No Direct Invitation

So far as could be learned at the state department, no direct invitation has yet been extended by the allied governments to the United States to participate in the conference at which a permanent peace treaty between Turkey and Greece and the allied governments is to be negotiated. Pending some action abroad which would bring up the question of American participation, state department officials have declined to issue themselves any invitation to conclude a final treaty of peace between Turkey, Greece and the allies.

Big Touring Car Misses Turn and Rams Into House

Falling to follow the turn on South Jackson street at Western avenue, Edward Wells, Monroe, drove his heavy seven passenger touring car over the curb through a vacant lot, knocking over a small tree and finally crashed into the south side of the Paul J. Doversen residence, 633 South Jackson street. Several pounds of plaster was knocked off the interior and other damage was done to the house.

The wild dash across lots occurred at 2 p. m. Tuesday. At 2 p. m. Wells was found guilty of driving while intoxicated and paid a fine and costs of $107.51.

Mike Tean, who was with him, paid $5 and went when he pleaded guilty to being intoxicated. The third member of the party could not be found when Patrolman Patrick Sleis and Driver William Ford arrived at the Doversen home.

It is believed Wells' candidate for sheriff of Green county at the September primaries, was driving north on Jackson street across the bridge and thought the road continued straight. Tean was cut about a face while Wells was unhurt. The car was badly damaged.

"Had it not been for a blow-out at the curb they would have gone right through the house," said Chief Newman.

News for Farmers

Farm Bureau Official Information

WISCONSIN WILL SHOW PRODUCTS

Farm and Factory Unite for Great Exposition at Milwaukee.

The Wisconsin Products Exposition is the latest form of the "Wisconsin idea."

It is to be given in the Milwaukee Auditorium Dec. 14 to 20. It is to be a combination of buying and selling and a promotion of the idea of co-operation, with the farmer, the manufacturer and commercial organizations participating.

It is the plan of L. G. Foster, chairman of the executive committee and deputy commissioner of the state department of markets and of the other members of the executive committee that the exposition shall become an annual affair and assume the standing of the great buying and selling marts of Germany.

Besides affording an opportunity for the farmer to come in direct contact with the farmer, the exposition is backed by the general idea of co-operation and mutual understanding of the various productive forces which are to be taken into account.

The Chicago wall, largely traditional but always perceptible, built around the various groups of producers which have kept them from knowing each other and each other's problems is to be torn down, according to Mr. Foster.

The farmer, the manufacturer and the banker are going to say "Hello, Hello" to each other beginning in December and thereafter, if the plans of the leaders in agriculture, assisted by the leaders in commerce, meet the success which the executive committee members already are assured.

Various departments of the state government are among the most enthusiastic of those co-operating. Such men as Dean C. L. Russell, of the college of agriculture, Prof. A. V. Moore, head of the academy of deputation, and Edward Nordman, of the department of markets are among those endorsing the exposition and its objects.

Such men as C. A. Johnson, President of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' Association; John L. Peber of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce; W. T. McCaskey, business manager of the Society of Equity; J. G. Milward, secretary of the Wisconsin Potato Growers' Association; A. L. Stone, of the executive committee of the Wisconsin Experiment Station; and J. R. Wheeler, ex-president of the Wisconsin Bankers' Association are on the executive committee.

Arthur J. Rhodes of the state department of markets is secretary. Spearman Lewis is the managing director of the exposition.

The bulletin announcing the exposition emphasizes the fact that no profits are to be made, that no private promotional interests are to be served and that all surplus will go toward a fund to put on the exposition in future years.

Plans are well underway and the early sale of booths indicates that the exposition will meet the expectations of its representative nature, according to Mr. Foster.

A feature of the exposition is likely to be the presence of a large number of buyers, according to Mr. Foster, invitations having been sent to all parts of the country to those who have been in the markets for Wisconsin products and seeds.

Out of the exposition, Mr. Foster predicted, will grow a co-operative movement which will give a new significance to the slogan "Made in Wisconsin."

SUPERVISED STUDY IS BEING TRIED OUT AGAIN HERE

Supervised study, used entirely in many high schools, is having another trial at the local high school. It is one of the many innovations coming in as a result of the new principal, W. W. Brown and Supt. F. O. Holt.

Two classes in supervised study are being started at the school this week. One in Senior E United States history, is being conducted by Miss Hannah Morris. There are 25 pupils in it. The other class is to be in English, and will be under Miss Zengene, a new English teacher at the school.

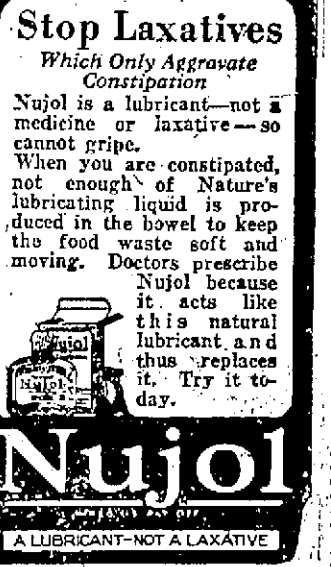

Sixty-minute periods are conducted, the pupils reciting, then together studying their lesson for the next day. This system had a try-out a number of years ago, but was not successful. It has been found successful in many schools, however, as the pupils come in contact with their teacher in studying as well as reciting.

Urho Steres and little daughter, Joy, Delavan, were the guests of Vie Montgomery Saturday afternoon. Miss Anna Smith came from Delavan Thursday and is the guest of Mrs. Lisa Sore and sister Mrs. Alice Trnman for two weeks. Mrs. Anna Blass, Portage, a worker in the Mystic organization, arrived Saturday noon and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Northway. Edward Switzer, Milwaukee, was a Clinton visitor Saturday. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. George Graves greeted them Saturday. Mr. Graves drove his automobile from Delavan Lake assembly grounds, where they are camping. Mr. Graves is going rapidly from a severe operation. Mrs. J. P. Kemmerer and Miss Carrie Zwinkins accompanied Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Northway and their guest, Mrs. Anna Blass, Portage, on an auto trip that included Delavan, Janesville, Lake Geneva, Elkhorn and Watworth Saturday afternoon. Dr. W. O. Thomas visited Rockford Saturday.

ACQUINTED RECORDS FOUND. Osaka, Japan. While repairing the Kozonji Temple near Osaka, which was built in the reign of Emperor Montoku, in 852, workmen found records made between 1037 and 1120, giving the names of sculptors, contributors and other particulars connected with the making of the images. An expert of the Nara Fine Art Institute, Mr. Myochin Tsubono is now investigating the records as the instance of the edification department.

STOP LAXATIVES

Which Only Aggravate Constipation. Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe. When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowel to keep the food waste soft and moving. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus replaces it. Try it today.

Officers Elected by H. S. Classes

Organization of classes at the high school is going on rapidly, with the fourth week of school now started. Many meetings have been held the past week and officers and class advisors chosen.

While the Senior A class has met and chosen Miss Eunice Nelson as advisor, no plans have yet been made for graduation, late in January. Only one meeting has been held. Francis Rees, editor of last year's Phoenix, has been chosen president of the class for its remaining half year. Margaret Spoon is vice president and Dorothy Randall, secretary and treasurer.

Bessie Ellis has been chosen to head the Junior A class, an unusual proceeding, as few girls are ever chosen presidents. Arthur Malmberg is vice president and Jean Galbraith, secretary and treasurer. Miss Cooper is advisor.

Miss Ruth Welsinger will advise the Junior B class. Sven Sorenson, one of the school's best orators, has been chosen president. Frances Corson, vice president, and Ruth Fisher, secretary and treasurer.

Other classes are planning organization meetings this week.

Send every energy to finish the high school building so it may be used before the end of 1922. With the completion, the problem of a community center will be solved.
Janesville needs and should have ample hotel facilities to care for the public. That will be especially true in the winter months when the city and the auditorium is available for the largest conventions.
Finish the paving of Janesville streets as soon as the city can be the necessary readjustments in taxation so as not to place a heavy burden on the people.
Give the city a park. There is no available

THE NEED FOR AID TO SMYRNA VICTIMS.

What of the thousands of victims of the terror at Smyrna? Will these men and women and children be allowed to perish—all of them—and Christian civilization receive another blow?
Francis appeals for aid come to the Gazette and other newspapers—appeals with stories of horror and imminent death from starvation, murder and worse, which falling on the ears of a world sa-tiated with other stories of blood and awfulness in the last four years, jar our calloused minds into renewed action for relief. America is the hope of such people. Standing on the dock at Smyrna a group of children were saved because they waved the American flag. The punishment by America may not always be swift but it is none the less sure in the minds of Turk or other barbarian. We must aid the victims of Smyrna. We will forget the selfish and ambitious motives that have been back of this war of Moslem against Christian and as usual respond to the call for assistance. In the wreck of the Asian city American men and women are working to save the few starving and suffering people salvaged from the slaughter and fire. They have called for additional aid and the response has been quick and generous. It does not involve the political phase of the question at all. What may happen to the Turk, whether he will be given back his original territory, and Christian nations forget the long war to eliminate the followers of Mohammed and destroy the empire of the Ottoman, is of little consequence in the cause of humanity. America has no part in this settlement of the political question; she has a part in the saving of peoples distressed and terrorized.

Chicago had a pleasant Sunday, killing seven

DAVID LAWRENCE AND POLITICS

David Lawrence, the Gazette's Washington correspondent, is making a notable tour of the west with the desire to place before the readers of this and other papers for which he acts, a careful examination of the political conditions as they have a bearing on the congressional elections in November. Mr. Lawrence, no matter how one may disagree with him as to some of the deductions, has an uncanny habit of telling the cold truth and is noted for accuracy as a reporter. The first of these reports appearing in today's issue of the Gazette deals with the situation in western New York state, normally heavily republican. It is also the home of William J.
Connors, manager of the political fortunes of William R. Hearst. Last week Mr. Hearst suffered an overwhelming defeat in his aspirations for the governorship. Mr. Lawrence hopes, when through with his journey, that he will be able to say with definiteness how the next congress will stand.

Mr. Harding can take a short rest with Congress off his hands.

THE CHANGING WAYS OF THE CITIES.

Roger Babson has assumed the role of a prophet. He sees great strides in the industrial development of cities and that many of the larger cities will fall back in population while others heretofore slow in growth will forge ahead in population and spread out in the coming time of expansion. It looks as though Mr. Babson, who is not always so optimistic, has good ground for his prophecy.

The motor car and truck have changed the world more than any innovation of modern times.
Automobiles have made the suburbs possible.
Cities with easily accessible outlying territory are bound to grow faster than those whose expansion is restricted physically. The city with most of its people living in apartment houses will give way to the metropolis with houses far apart, with yards and gardens. It no longer will be—now—necessary to have a town house and a country house for the rich. The country house will suffice. Smaller cities have a chance which in the past was forbidden. Life is much more comfortable in a city the size of Janesville or somewhat larger, than in the grim and smoke laden atmosphere of Chicago. Yet within a few hours we have all the advantages Chicago can offer at hand.
Cities offering industrial opportunities, with rail connections, and an environment that is attractive are to grow.

This is a hopeful note for Janesville. There is room to expand here. Some do not think so and argue that a park along the river at the very edge of the city, will never be near enough to be used.
But that same argument has been repeated in other places. When St. Louis acquired its Forest Park of woodland far out in the country, it was subject to the same objection. But now the park is entirely within the built-up city. Mr. Babson

De-Inking Old Newspapers

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN

Washington.—Saving old newspapers that they may be used again in the manufacture of newsprint may seem far removed from the problems of forest observation, but as a matter of fact it is directly connected with the States department of agriculture is interested. This branch of the government's many activities has recently been conducting a series of experiments in de-inking process, and now announces that it has been perfected and is practicable.

About 2,500 tons of old newspapers can be gathered daily in the larger cities, it is estimated, and turned into newsprint by this process. In terms of forest acreage this means roughly the saving of the cut each year on about 275,000 acres. This acreage carries a crop not produced in a year, but a spruce forest requiring 100 years or longer to grow. That is regarded as an important saving, in view of the fact that the daily consumption of newsprint in the United States is approximately 7,000 tons.

In its modern development the production of newsprint depends upon the forest for its raw material. The present supply, coming largely from mills in the northeast and lake states is depleted, or from less accessible forests in Canada. The latter now furnish 65 per cent of the raw pulp used by mills in this country.

Many of these mills, representing immense investments, no longer have a supply of raw material of their own, but are dependent either on a foreign supply of pulp, or on pulpwood that must be hauled long distances in the United States.
Some of these mills have their own supply for only 20 or 30 years in advance, and but one mill is known that has a supply, strictly its own, that is good for more than half a century. The increasing distances to the fast receding forests mean added freight costs and a higher priced pulp, while hanging over the mills is the threat of imported pulp is the ever present possibility of embargo, even now far from a theoretical menace. Thus the incentive to the development of a de-inking process is apparent.

The use of old paper stock for the manufacture of paper is very old and we find mention of a process in Denmark as early as 1685. Seventy years later German chemists were experimenting in that direction, and in 1794, during the French Revolution, Citizen Masson, a woman, conducted an establishment for the conversion of old papers into new. In 1801 Matthias Koops established the Neckinger Mill at Bernomsey, England, to de-ink printed papers and make new paper therefrom, and in 1849 Henry B. Rogers, in a mill near Hartford, Conn., made the first use in the United States of old papers in the manufacture of paper.

It is only in recent years, however, that it has been realized that it would not only be good business to utilize the enormous waste represented in printed paper, but was an absolute necessity if the consumption of newsprint continued to grow and the supply of spruce timber to diminish.

Early in 1921 the Forest Products laboratory of the department of agriculture undertook a series of comparative tests to determine the efficiency of a process using bentonite to accomplish the heretofore almost impossible task of washing all the carbon black out of the macerated pulp after it has been loosened by alkalis. S. D. Wells, the engineer in charge of the experiments, now reports that they were successful.

In de-inking printed paper and especially newsprint, says Mr. Wells, "it is comparatively easy to loosen the carbon black by dissolving the varnish of the printing ink by use of alkalis.
Such treatment will not injure ground wood pulp and if the carbon black could be completely washed out after liberation a satisfactory material would be obtained. Unfortunately the fibres of the paper stock serve as a very effective filter in enmeshing the particles of carbon and there are no means of washing in common use that will permit their complete removal without excessive losses of pulp or expenditures of time, water and power that are prohibitive. In fact a point seems to be reached beyond which it is impossible to remove the remaining traces of ink. With bentonite, however, we have a substance that will pass through ordinary filters and with its enormous surface, on account of the extreme fineness of its particles, will carry all the carbon black along with it."

Bentonite is defined by the geological survey as "a transported, stratified, volcanic ash that has been altered shortly after deposition." It is very fine grained and has the property of swelling in contact with water to several times its original volume. Like any natural product different deposits vary considerably and Mr. Wells says that the best supply that has come to his notice is found in Wyoming.

"The possibilities of a process for the recovery of old newspaper stock are apparent to anyone familiar with the paper industry," says Mr.
Wells. "When the price paid for old paper stimulated collection it is reported that about 25,000 tons per month were collected in Chicago, of which 40 per cent was news. During the same period Cleveland is reported to have handled 350 tons per day of which 150 tons were news. In our large metropolitan centers probably 2,000 tons per day were collected which would furnish a very considerable portion of our daily consumption of 7,000 tons of newsprint. The source of this raw material is furthermore at the place of consumption and the saving in freight is a very important item. The color requirements of the publishers at the present time are very severe and any process that does not thoroughly remove ink cannot be successful."

The logical location for de-inking plants, according to experts, will be in a number of the large urban centers where the supply of raw material—old newspapers—is great and where the demand is greatest.

The utilization of the de-inking process therefore will not benefit materially existing paper mills which are in most instances located near their original source of pulp wood in somewhat isolated and small communities. However, from a raw material standpoint, especially in its forest depletion phase, the wide application of the de-inking of old newspapers has potentially a very important bearing on the forest problem in America today.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

THE TEST OF FAITH.
Laughter and music
And sunshine and mirth,
Blossoms to border
The pathways of earth,
And after the dancing
And after the song,
The brings the burdens
To carry along.

Burdens of duty
And burdens of grief,
Trials to test our belief,
And prove our belief,
Long roads to travel
And long hours of pain,
But always to sunshine
And laughter again.

Each has his burden
Of something to bear,
Each has his moments
Of doubt and despair;
Crosses cannot save us
The ultimate test
They can but help us
To live in our best.

Blue skies above us,
The peace of a smile,
The clouds gather
To linger awhile:
Heartache and anguish,
And pitiful need
Pour down the acid
On every man's creed.

We who profess
In our God to believe,
Bravely must trust Him
Whenever we grieve.
This is life's story,
And every man's share:
After the laughter
Come burdens to bear.

BUSINESS OF BEING TOTALLY DEVOTED
OF ENERGY.

I love to read in magazines
The advertising pages,
Whose heroes bust upon the scenes
With increases in wages.
The energy that they display
I enviously admire.
I wish that I were built that way:
To better things aspire.

I've often thought some day I'll rise
And cut the mail course upon
To give my brain some exercise
To loop a mental loop on.
Then I somehow lose the urge—It's such a lot of bother—
I drop the thought and surge
And never get another.

Oh, would that I were filled with zest
And zip and pep and such stuff,
And would the task that pleased me best
Were typewriting out my stuff,
But I would rather yawn and stall
And postpone for the present,
And why I do my work at all
Is—starving's SO unpleasant.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

EXERCISE IS NOT A CURE-ALL

Exercise deliberately taken as a remedy is killing a lot of misguided folk and working havoc with many semi individuals or valetudinarians who should be cultivating physical rest. There is a cure, or to dig-nify it with a name it doesn't merit, a "school" which makes exercise a panacea and brings disaster upon many people who know as much about it as a child knows about the shrewd business men who exploit the gullible followers of the cure to hold out exercise as a cure-all, but they must also concern themselves with the physical condition of the body and advocate the way of prevention and treatment of disease. There is, of course, method in their madness, for a certain following is assured to any scheme which damns the actors and offers the simple public a short cut to health.

Although the less intelligent layman fondly imagines that regular physicians do not employ exercise as a remedy, the more intelligent class knows that regular physicians always have prescribed exercises in the treatment of various disease states, both moderate and severe "functional" troubles and serious "organic" diseases such as heart disease. The truth is that the chaos who pretend to be the champions of "physical culture" have simply appropriated some of the methods and remedies of the regular medical profession and recommended them for indiscriminate use, precisely as many nostrum makers have appropriated some medicinal prescription originally intended for an individual condition and recommended it for indiscriminate use. Now everybody knows that what cured the blacksmith killed the tailor. If exercise is to be helpful, it must be adapted to the particular individual and for the peculiar circumstances, assuming that exercise is advisable at all. It is just as absurd and dangerous to imagine that exercise may be "fried" in any case regardless of the individual condition of the individual from which Jones recovered after taking, will prove as harmless in the case of Smith. That would be a fine little system if it worked out right, but too often Smith suffers effects which are never described in a testimonial. One man's food is another man's poison, and although I am a strong believer in exercise, I am convinced of nothing more ridiculous than the notion that, whatever ails you, some special exercise would be good for it.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

1. Does a teething baby have to be kept warmer than usual? 2. Is it necessary to keep wooden belly band and wooden stockings on a baby in hot weather if the baby is teething? 3. Is it dangerous to let a teething baby crawl about on its knees on the floor about on its knees on the floor and underneath? (Mrs. H. D.) Answer.—No. 2. No. 3. No. The cutting of teeth is a natural process and calls for no special attention or precaution.

Cancer Sometimes Painless.
Is cancer painful? Always? (Mrs.
M. M.)
Answer.—In the early and most curable stage of cancer there is no particular complaint of pain in many cases.

Things in the Air.
Which injures health the most, to inhale a pipe or a cigar? A pipe seems harder on me than a cigar and upsets my stomach. What do you use to clean your teeth with? (A.
B.)
Answer.—I have known some men who ate their cigars, but never one who inhaled his pipe or cigars. If you are bent on this form of suicide it probably wouldn't matter which you used. On the other hand, occasions when I clean my teeth I use ordinary soap, though some people prefer to use something else. It gives the effect of an ice cream soda combination, the unadorned soap not being sanitary enough.

Too Young to Think.
Is it harmful in any way not to wear a corset? I have never worn one. I am 17 and people tell me I must wear one, and suffer for it until I am 19 and very straight and have perfect health now. I take plenty of exercise every day. (Miss W.)
Answer.—Well, young lady, look about you at the people who tell you that. I don't think they are particularly what perfect shapes they have,
and what ideal health after 20 years or so of corseting. I don't know decide whether you prefer to mend your ways. My advice is that you let people talk all they like, but keep right on as you are.

Q. What is thrown pottery?

A. Thrown pottery is shaped on a rapidly revolving disk. The graduation of the clay is a scientific process.
The ingredients—ball clay, flint powder, felspar and kaolin—are carefully selected and weighed in certain proportions so that they will just properly become sufficiently hard when shaped and fired. The mixture is left to stand until thoroughly soaked and then is laved through fine linen and dumped into a plaster box which absorbs the water and leaves the clay in condition to be beaten. All the air bubbles must be driven out of the ball of clay before it is placed on the turning wheel.
When it is in the hands of the potter it is the touch of the plastic clay as it spins upon the disk. The thumbs make the inside of the object, while the extended fingers shape the walls. After the work of art is properly shaped it is put into a plaster box to become "leather hard" and is then finished or turned. The plain objects usually are ornamented and placed in the fire oven, and a skillful baker process puts on the desired glaze.

Q. What kind of a parrot learns to talk most readily? T. T.

A. The biological survey says that the gray parrot of western Africa is best adapted to training as a talker.

Q. How many people have savings accounts? E. F. H.

A. There are some 11,500,000 de-positors in savings banks in the United States, with a total of $10,000,000,000. This is exclusive of savings departments in other banks.
Such accounts would probably raise the totals to 12,000,000 depositors and $1,000,000,000.

Q. What Robert Ingorsoll ever reminded C. E. T.

A. Robert Ingorsoll, so far as we can ascertain, did not change his views on the immortality of the soul before his death. He believed that death ended the spiritual as well as the physical life of man.

Q. Can matting and window shades be given a coat of paint? R. J. S.

A. Both matting and window shades can be painted to renew them.
The secret of success in this work is to apply two or three very thin coats of paint rather than a single heavy coat.

Q. Why were the cedars of Lebanon remarkable enough to find a place in literature? A. I. H.

A. The cedars of Lebanon were the tallest trees known in Biblical times and regarded by them as on a count of their height and strength.

Q. How long is a roll of wall paper? J. M. C.

A. The general length is eight yards.

Q. What and when is Primrose day? M. W.

A. Lord Beaconsfield died April 19, 1881, and the anniversary of his death has been celebrated every year on that date by his admirers by the wearing of primroses.

"I'll be there, I understand," Fairchild had reached out and touched her arm. "I want to thank you for the opportunity. Yes, I'll be there," she came with a short laugh. "And Harry, too. He won't be a trouble from the Rodaines!" She came a little closer to him and looked up at him with trustful eyes. All the brighter in the spattering light of the candle.

"Thank you—it seems that I'm always thanking you. I was afraid I didn't know where to go—to whom to turn. I thought of you. I knew you'd help me—women can guess those things."

"Can they?" Fairchild asked eagerly. "Then you've guessed all along?" But she smiled and cut in. "I want to thank you for those chips off the old block."

Community Comment

FLORENCE SLOWN HYDE, Editor.
This department of the Janesville Daily Gazette is published in the interest of all community work in Southern Wisconsin.

YOUR COMMUNITY CLUB
Rock county has a number of rural community clubs, and should have more organizations of this kind. Most of these clubs do not hold meetings during the busy summer season, resuming activity about Oct. 1 or soon thereafter. As a rule the task of making a community club worthwhile devolves largely upon two or three people who devote their individual and, unfortunately there is often a lack of appreciation and cooperation on the part of the people of the community. Sometimes leaders are discouraged by the lack of cooperation through a manifest desire to conduct matters in their own way. Leadership is necessary in any enterprise but true leadership utilizes all available ability and resources to the best advantage.

GOOD HEALTH WEEK
Federal and state health departments are cooperating with a national committee of business men in the promotion of "Good Health Week," Oct. 23-30. The health committee of the City Federation of Women will present tentative plans for the observance of this week at a health conference to be called soon, when the board of health will discuss the matter of establishing a health center in Janesville. This plan will be discussed.

CHILD WELFARE EFFORTS
A new bulletin just issued by the U. S. Child Welfare Bureau contains information as to the latest methods employed in the various states to correlate the work of all agencies interested in child care and protection, through county organizations. Within recent years laws providing for some form of county welfare organization have been passed in Arkansas, Minnesota, Missouri, North Carolina, and Virginia, while individual counties, private agencies, and boards are working out similar plans in many other states, without legislative action. Of 36 counties in Minnesota, 63 have child welfare boards, and this plan the work in behalf of child welfare is coordinated so that instead of duplication in some lines and absolute neglect in other lines, an inclusive program is made possible with a minimum expenditure of public and private funds.

BEAUTY CHATS by Edna Kent Forbes
ANSWERED LETTERS
G. H. S.—Soften the warts by rubbing in than either salt, olive oil or lemon juice; and, each time the hands are washed, use a little pumice on them.
X. Y. Z.—With reddish brown hair and deep blue eyes you can wear all colors; but the best choice will be all shades of green, brown or blues. Do not stain that green in your hair shampoo once in three weeks, using a fine quality of soap such as castile or similar.
Lila—Extract the coarse hairs by using tweezers. Bleach the finer ones with peroxide.
Mrs. M. C.—Henna shampoo is made by mixing one ounce of Egyptian henna with three ounces of powder and water. This makes enough for several shampoos. Take a tablespoon of this mixture and put it into a pint of hot water; rub this over the head, working it into a lather. Let it remain from 15 to 20 minutes and proceed as in any shampoo. This gives lustre and richness but in no way changes the shade of the hair.
Anxious M. C.—The condition which causes your hair to fall out is called alopecia. It is not a disease, but a condition of the hair. The hair falls out because of the hair's health follows that of the whole system.
H. M. D.—An ounce of Epsom salts to a pint of water will form a strong solution to be used in massaging the fleshy part of the ankles for reduction purposes.
Katherine C.—It is not advisable to peel the skin, as it would be left in such a delicate state that it would be affected by every change of temperature or other conditions. The few blemishes that you have now will be nothing compared with those you will have after making the skin sensitive through this unnecessary process. You can bleach the liver spots by persistent application of lemon juice or cucumber lotions.
D. A. M.—If you curl the hair by using heated irons you would not have any need for curling fluid.
K. K.—Spirits of camphor is drying to the skin. Do not overdo the applications. The best method for clearing the skin was given in the Chat of yesterday. Squeezing the flesh not only bruises it but it will cause the moderate oven for an hour or more until thoroughly brown and crisp. Bake at intervals. Serve with tartar sauce.

Combination Salad—Cut into pieces not too small: cold potatoes, a green pepper, radishes, an onion, cucumber, celery. Season with salt, pepper and mix with mayonnaise. Serve on lettuce leaf, garnish with sliced tomato and cooked beans and a dash of paprika.

Tipical Cream—Heat a pint of milk in a double boiler. Add a pinch of salt and one-half tablespoons of minute tapioca. Cook 15 minutes or so until the tapioca is clear. Add the yolks of two eggs mixed with one-quarter cup sugar. When it thickens remove from fire and add gradually the stiffly beaten whites. Chill and serve with cream. Fruit, fresh or canned, may be added.

Peach Shortcake—This cake is spongy, not the usual shortcake. Beat stiffly the whites of six eggs. Add gradually a cup of sugar, then the beaten yolks. Add a cup of flour sifted three times, to which a heaping teaspoon of baking powder has been added. Fold in these ingredients (do not beat). Add the juice of half a lemon and a little almond flavoring. Bake in layers in a moderate oven. Serve with fresh, sugared sliced peaches and whipped cream.

SUGGESTIONS
This arrangement makes the piece of a sewing basket in which the threads are tangled and everything gets very much mixed up and hard to find. Take a light weight piece of material, such as muslin or cotton (right). Cut it round about 13 inches in diameter or smaller if desired. Cover it with a pretty flowered material. Take finishing nails (brads) and space them two and one-half inches around the board, about one and one-half inch from edge of board. Put your spools of thread on these. Then place three brads, about two inches above your thread nails, on bottom of your board. Push cork on nails the size of thumb, these being your thumb holders. Make a pretty little pin cushion of contrasting color. Make it square, sew ribbon on the sides of board to hang it up by; sew it on in center so it makes the corner of pin cushion run up and down. Sew the cushion on before you put material on board. Hang board close to machine. Tape measure, etc., can be hung on the sides.

To Clean Coffee Pots—Rub salt on the inside of coffee pot to remove coffee and egg which naturally form in time. Rinse quickly and thoroughly and the stain will be found disappear.

To Remove Iron Rust—To remove iron rust, moisten with ammonia, then use salts of lemon or oxalic acid, and rinse in boiling water.

Restored Mrs. Briggs' Health
After Years of Bedridden Suffering, Druesen-Kraft Gland Tablets Restored Her Strength and Vigor by Rebuilding Her Glands!

One of the most remarkable cases reported thus far of Mrs. Fanny Briggs, 108 E. Burdette St., Janesville, Wis., is a woman who, after suffering for eight years ago and the shock of a severe cold, she was left in a state of complete prostration. She suffered from terrible periodic pains, and was unable to walk and according to her own statement she was on the verge of suicide. Her doctor finally thought weakened glands might be the cause and advised her to try the new Druesen-Kraft Gland Tablets.

The results were amazing! She felt new vigor and strength instilled into her almost immediately and after a month she not only climbed stairs easily but did her own housework. She is now in perfect health and is a real joy to her family. Strong active glands make a vigorous healthy body! The glands are being weakened every day, and thus the body is weakened and the results are permanent and the remarkable effects of DRUESEN-KRAFT Gland Tablets are being everywhere.
